AN INSURANCE WAR

It Is the Liveliest Kind of a Legal Battle.

OHIO IS AGAINST THE LLOYDS

Great Interest Is Manifested In the Suits Now Pending In the Supreme Court. Details of a Case Not Universally Understood, But of Moment to All Insured.

There is the liveliest kind of an insurance war on in Ohio. Though it has not been made public, except through the occasional bringing of a suit or the filing of a paper in court, nevertheless every fire insurance company and every fire insurance agent in the state is carefully watching the details and wondering just what the end will be, for on this much of the business of the future depends. The discussion in the insurance ranks began more than a year ago, when an effort was made to prevent the issue of a license to the Lloyds to do business in the state. At this time the attorney general refused to bring proceedings against the Lloyds, and Superintendent of Insurance Hahn granted them a license. It then went on until the time to renew them came along, and Superintendent Matthews took a different view and refused to continue the license in force. The old line fire insurance companies, of which the Lloyds are the strongest competitors, were naturally pleased at this. Immediately the Lloyds brought mandamus proceedings in supreme court to compel Superintendent Matthews to grant them a license. This action was upon the authority of Squire, Hahn & App. of Cleveland, general agents of the Lloyds in Ohio. The hearing of the case has been set for April 22, and a decision will probably be given soon after. During the time that this case has been pending an opportunity for the Lloyds to do a little quiet laughing has been presented itself. The attorney general, finding what he believed evidence that several of the old-line companies were members of the insurance trust, for the purpose of maintaining rates, has brought quo warranto proceedings against them to revoke their charters and prevent them from doing business in the state. If successful in these suits the attorney general will probably bring similar ones against other companies on the same ground. The condition is therefore a queer one, and much depends on the outcome. If the Lloyds are successful in their suit against Superintendent Matthews and the attorney general secures the revocation of the license of the old-line companies it leaves the former in practical possession of the business in Ohio. If the license of the old-line companies is not revoked and the Lloyds are defeated the latter will be forced to retire from the state and the old-line people can go it alone. If both should be defeated it will mean that Ohio will be left with few insurance companies to do business here. If both are successful and the license of neither is revoked it will leave the matter just as it was before the litigation began and the legal controversy will have been for nothing. It can be seen, therefore, that much depends upon the outcome of these suits, and that the agents and companies are naturally interested. In the meantime the fight goes merrily on, and new suits are being brought every little while.

MARLATT REPENTED.

A special from Columbus says that Ira Marlatt has repented after his rampage of Saturday night, and made promises of almost every kind to the warden in order to gain relief. The handcuffs were taken off, and he was allowed something to eat. When the warden called to see him he stated that he was innocent of the crime, and wanted to be released. After the warden left Marlatt wrote him a letter in which he declared it was a disgrace to the state that he was treated as he was, and that in justice to himself the warden should do something to afford him relief. Marlatt is still sullen, but the violent treatment of the other night seems to have convinced him of the necessity of good behavior.

DOING HIS BEST.

Commissioner Finley Is Cleaning the Paved Streets. Commissioner Finley has had his force at work for several days cleaning the paved streets, and expects to make the city as clean as the funds at his command will allow. Much dirt has been allowed to remain on the streets during the winter, but the commissioner will get a good start, and allow him to keep them in good condition the remainder of the year. A great deal of the work remains to be done before the spring cleaning is completed.

WORKS OF ART

Are the Signs Placed in the News Review Windows.

Two handsome signs, one in each of the big windows at the News Review, have been attracting attention on Washington street today. They were made by J. A. McCain, and are generally credited as being the handsomest signs in the city. They are not only so artistic in design as to attract general attention, but are clear and bright, presenting a handsome appearance. Mr. McCain has received many compliments on his splendid productions.

A RICH HARVEST

Would Result From the Arrest of Wheelmen Without Bells.

A member of the fire department, while standing last evening at the corner of Fifth and Market streets watching the bicycle riders, turned to a reporter and said: "I wonder what kind of a harvest I would reap if I undertook to arrest all the riders who do not have bells on their wheels?" The question was not answered, but it is probable that the office of the mayor would be filled with cycles if the law was enforced.

PRIZE FIGHTS AND HANGINGS

Do Not Agree With a Seventh Street Young Woman.

A young woman lies at her home in Seventh street suffering from nervous prostration, the direct result of published accounts of the prize fight and the execution of Walling and Jackson. After reading of the fight she became ill, but had almost recovered when a paper filled with the story of the double execution at Newport fell into her hands. She became very excited as she read, and is now confined to her room.

VISITED JAILS.

The County Board Have a Meeting In Lisbon.

Mrs. Harry Palmer, of this city, and Mrs. Aten, of Wellsville, are in Lisbon today attending a meeting of the board of county visitors. They reported that the sanitary condition of the local jail might be improved, and the Wellsville jail was even worse. At Salineville they found the jail unfit for occupation by human beings. They recommended that all be improved, and that whitewash be liberally used in every jail visited.

Found a Pocketbook.

One of the boys at the fire station found a pocketbook on the pavement yesterday morning, and will gladly return it to the owner if that person will call. The pocketbook contains nothing but a receipt.

A NEW FEELING ABROAD

Heretofore the Affairs of State and City

HAVE BEEN LITTLE DISCUSSED

But the People Are Year by Year Manifesting More Interest, and Municipal Rottenness Must Bow Before the All-Powerful Public Opinion.

Editorially the Ram's Horn touches a question of interest to East Liverpool in this manner:

"A new power is beginning to make itself manifest in the political life of the world. Heretofore, the affairs of state, and even the affairs of town and city government have been in the exclusive control of a small circle of men whose official functions have been apportioned by low-bred partisans and ward corruptionists. In local campaigns, at least, the primary, the caucus, and even the election itself has gone by default on account of the lack of interest or disgust which have distinguished conscientious citizens. There is a new feeling abroad, and it is getting stronger with each recurring year that a man owes a duty, not only to his family and to his business, and to his God, but also to his government. It is in response to this awakened civic conscience that we have what we may call a new public opinion manifesting itself, and we are beginning to see here and there at the election booths, a new officer endowed with the regal might of a patriotic constituency.

"In the presence of a just public opinion, well organized and enforced, the brigands, who heretofore have reigned supreme at the political tournaments, sink away abashed and terrified, to their lairs. It is with no pen of prophecy that our artist has described such a scene as this in our first page cartoon; he describes a situation which is already in many a small city, and which is about to become real in New York, Chicago and other great centers of population. In New York city a strong committee, representative of all political parties, has been formed with a view of removing entirely local contests from partisan connection. It is a reasonable proposition that municipal affairs should be conducted upon business principles; they have no necessary relation with national politics, and if the precedent which is being set in New York is imitated and followed in other quarters, we may hope to see this century end with that most blessed desideratum achieved, namely, the complete and eternal divorce of national and local politics. Whoever stands in the way of this consummation is a foe to good government, and an enemy to the community in which he lives."

READY FOR THE BENEFIT.

A Large Audience Will Hear the Concert Tonight.

The library committee having in charge the benefit concert to be given this evening at the Grand hotel a meeting at city hall to wind up preliminaries. All preparations have been made, and the concert will be one of merit.

A STORMY VOYAGE.

Mr. Robert Young Had a Hard Time of It on the Water.

Robert Young, a successful wheat grower of Manitoba, is in the city the guest of his brother, G. S. Young. Mr. Young has for three months been in Scotland, where he visited with relatives. On the return voyage he spent 16 days on the water, the passage being unusually stormy and rough. Mr. Young will remain in town several days, and will then leave for Manitoba.

CHARLEY BUCK WON.

A Game of Pool Attracted Attention Among the Sports.

A 100-ball game of pool was played yesterday afternoon for $10 a side between Frank Lorenzo and Charles Buck. The affair attracted a large crowd, and the game was one of the finest ever seen in the city. Buck winning by a score of 100 to 72. It is probable another match will be played in the near future.

AND SO THEY WERE MARRIED.

A Quiet Wedding Took Place In Town This Morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of Pittsburgh, are registered at the Lakel House. Mrs. Miller was formerly Miss Ida Smith, of Pittsburgh, but yesterday she and Mr. Miller went to Stenberville, had a license issued, and came to this city at 7:45 this morning. Shortly after their arrival they were united in marriage. After a short stay in town the young couple will go to Salem, where the groom will engage in business. They are very young, neither seeming to be over 20 years of age.

ONE WICKED MAN

Allowed His Horse to Stand In an Alley All Day.

J. C. McMillan, of Woodbine alley, called at city hall and complained about a horse which had been standing at his residence since noon of yesterday without feed. The mayor told him to take it to a livery stable, and let its owner pay for its supper. The animal was taken to a stable, and about 9 o'clock its owner whose name could not be learned, was trying to have a warrant issued for the arrest of the party who relieved the animal of its sufferings. He was unsuccessful in his attempt.

POUNDED GLASS

Was Given to a Dog on a Nice Piece of Meat.

Some miscreant gave Don, a dog owned by C. W. Hutchison, a large piece of meat this morning which contained a lot of pounded glass. The animal had eaten the meat before it was found it contained glass, and this was discovered by a young man calling the attention of one of the attendants to the glass lying on the floor. Antidotes were administered and the animal was out of danger.

APPRAISED PROPERTY.

Sheriff Gill Valued Land Here and in Wellsville.

Sheriff Gill was in the city today appraising the property of James O'Hanlon against whom two judgments were recently rendered in common pleas court. The property is situated in California hollow.

The sheriff also appraised the property of Elmer S. Kelley, of Wellsville, upon a claim by the Odd Fellows of that place. The residence was valued at $1,333. It will be sold within a few weeks.

FORGOT TO APPEAR.

It Is Therefore Probable Someone Will Have a Ride.

Sunday afternoon two young men endeavored to get a drink at the East End saloon. They were ordered away, but persisted and finally one of them fell through a window. Officer Moore was called and notified the young men to appear at the mayor's office yesterday. They have not yet made their appearance, and it is probable someone will take a ride in the patrol wagon.

A BIG TOW.

The Pacific Took Down a Vast Amount of Coal.

There is only a small amount of coal in the pools above Pittsburgh, and few towns have passed the city in the past few weeks, but the Pacific went down at noon with a tow large enough for several boats. When the boat was passing under the bridge, the front of the tow was opposite the passenger station. It contained 22 barges and three flats.

WANTED A WAGON

To Aid Officer Burgess In Distributing Measles Signs.

Sanitary Policeman Burgess called at the fire station today to solicit the help of Driver McMillan and his patrol wagon in his work, that of distributing measles signs to houses where the disease is found. Quite a heated debate ensued, and it was decided to let the mayor arbitrate the case, which will be presented to him tomorrow.

COUNCIL'S BUSINESS.

There Is Not a Great Deal to Be Considered.

The meeting of council this evening will in all probability be short and sweet, as it is the last time the members will hold full sway. The new councilmen will be seated at the next meeting. The curfew ordinance will be up, and a few names are to be added to the vehicle list, while President Purinton is of the opinion the street railway ordinance may be reconsidered.

MADE MONEY.

There Is a Balance In the Water Works' Fund.

The water works trustees at a recent meeting ordered bills paid to the amount of $1,370.84. The business of the year was closed up, and showed the receipts from all sources to have been $36,950.98, while the expenditures were $36,791.01 leaving a balance in the treasury of $159.97. The report pleases the trustees.

Two Weddings.

Rev. O. S. Reed last night united in marriage Mr. Ben Wyand and Miss Ida Ashbaugh, and Mr. Thomas Lamp and Miss Maggie Beinheimer. The ceremonies were solemnized at Reverend Reed's residence.

HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Whipped Samuel Hay In the Diamond.

HE MADE NO RESISTANCE

But Protected His Face With His Hands.

A Disgraceful Scene Ended a Long String of Family Troubles—Hay Has Some Reasons.

A little less than a year ago Samuel Hay was married to Miss Sadie A. Boyd, but the couple did not live happily together, and for some unknown reason they separated.

Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock Hay was passing along the Diamond when he came face to face with Mrs. Boyd, the mother of his wife. She caught him by the coat and administered a severe slap on his cheek. The young man made no effort to strike back, but put up his hands to shield his face, while the irate mother-in-law rained blows fast and furious upon his head. He finally managed to get away from her clutches, and started to run, but she was too fast for him, and overtaking him began once more to give him a severe trouncing.

It is hard to tell when the scene would have stopped had not Officer Earl arrived and ordered the woman to desist.

She made no explanation whatever of her conduct while Hay addressed the officer and said: "That's my mother-in-law. She wants me to live with her, would you? Do you blame a fellow for not living with such a mother-in-law as that?"

Quiet was soon restored, but it will probably be a long time before the Diamond merchants are treated to another such disgraceful scene. It is said the events leading to the assault would make spicy reading.

Another chapter of the story was passed through this morning when Hay was bound over to court by Squire Manley, in the sum of $300 for not supporting his child. Evidence produced showed he had deserted his wife two weeks before the child was born, leaving her at 9:30 one morning to be gone about two hours. A letter written from Wellsville by him told her goodbye, and for her to sell the things and keep the money as she might need it. Squire Manley in commenting on the case said it was a pity the whipping post had been abolished.

IN POLICE COURT.

A Few Offenders Paid For Their Wickedness.

His honor, the mayor, was in the best of spirits this morning, presumably because there was only one case in the jail for his disposal. Messrs. Greenwood and Darrah, who were arrested last Monday for disorderly conduct, were released from their penal duties last evening by each securing their fines, $7.00.

Johnathan Boyle was liberated last night. He called to the mayor that he had $7.00 sewed up, and he thought his freedom was worth that amount. His honor thanked him for his donation, and bade him adieu.

The next case of liberation was that of Alfred Webber, charged with committing assault and battery upon his wife. He told "Chick," as he called the mayor, he didn't know what to do about it, and afterwards said he struck his wife in the face last Saturday.

"Well, that will cost you about $9.00, Al," said the mayor.

Two five dollar bills were seen coming into the office on wings, and Mr. Webber went out feeling happy with forty cents change. Old Mrs. McCoy came into the office at this time, and consoled Mr. Webber to repeat his act, but being a cool headed gentleman he will hardly heed the good (?) advice.

John Fitzgerald came to grief last evening by going to Hall's lumber yard to sleep it off. "I tell you how it was, I haven't had a drink since last August until yesterday, when I took two glasses. It made me a mite sick and I wanted to get in the pink of condition before going home."

"Well, last night's bed will be at the rate of $3.60 per," smilingly said the mayor. Having but $3.15 of the bill, he is still meditating where the other $3.45 is coming from. Thus endeth their tales of woe.

More Measles.

Five new cases of measles were reported to the board of health today. Also one case of membranous croup. The latter case afflicts a family who live in one of the shanty boats at the foot of Union street.

A Son.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pierce, West End, a son.

A BRADSHAW SUIT.

It Appeared In Lisbon, and Involves Some Land.

LISBON, March 23.—[Special.]—Dellen J. Hill, as guardian of the estate and person of Berinda E. Hill, who is insane, has filed an action in court against Priscilla J. Bradshaw and others of the Bradshaw heirs of East Liverpool, asking to have the interest of her ward in 10 lots in East Liverpool partitioned off to her. The plaintiff is entitled to one-eighth interest in the following property: Lots 608-9-10, 2782, 2786-88, 2800, 2806, 2808, 2819, 2779, 2780, in Bradshaw's addition. If division cannot be made, the lots will be sold.

Joseph Marshall and W. P. Harrison, Salem, James Raugh, Calcutta, have been added to the list of prisoners at the county jail. Marshall was committed in default of $500 for assaulting A. Gray with intent to kill last Sunday. Harrison was sent for using obscene language and assaulting Mary Harrison, and Raugh's crime is an assault upon his wife with intent to kill her. The Mills brothers, who were convicted two weeks ago of burglary, were taken to Mansfield yesterday.

Miss Mary Burger has sued the estate of Dora Woolmaker, Salineville, for $1,351.50 which the executor has refused to pay. She claims it for board and care given the deceased.

John Harkin, Salineville, is thought to be insane, and was placed in jail here last night. The inquest will be held tomorrow.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Carl Cain and Susan M. Campbell, John L. Roberts and Barbara S. Leese, Edwin F. Stamp and Blanch Moore.

Judge Smith held a short session of court this morning, when he heard the arguments in a motion for a new trial for John Ford, of Salem, who was convicted of horse stealing. The verdict of the jury was in his opinion a just one, and the motion to set it aside was overruled. Ford got a year in the penitentiary.

The county board of visitors met here today, and visited the jail. They are at the infirmary this afternoon.

MARLATT REPENTED.

J. C. McMillan, of Woodbine alley, called at city hall and complained about a horse which had been standing at his residence since noon of yesterday without feed. The mayor told him to take it to a livery stable, and let its owner pay for its supper. The animal was taken to a stable, and about 9 o'clock its owner whose name could not be learned, was trying to have a warrant issued for the arrest of the party who relieved the animal of its sufferings. He was unsuccessful in his attempt.

POUNDED GLASS

Was Given to a Dog on a Nice Piece of Meat.

Some miscreant gave Don, a dog owned by C. W. Hutchison, a large piece of meat this morning which contained a lot of pounded glass. The animal had eaten the meat before it was found it contained glass, and this was discovered by a young man calling the attention of one of the attendants to the glass lying on the floor. Antidotes were administered and the animal was out of danger.

APPRAISED PROPERTY.

Sheriff Gill Valued Land Here and In Wellsville.

Sheriff Gill was in the city today appraising the property of James O'Hanlon against whom two judgments were recently rendered in common pleas court. The property is situated in California hollow.

The sheriff also appraised the property of Elmer S. Kelley, of Wellsville, upon a claim by the Odd Fellows of that place. The residence was valued at $1,333. It will be sold within a few weeks.

FORGOT TO APPEAR.

It Is Therefore Probable Someone Will Have a Ride.

Sunday afternoon two young men endeavored to get a drink at the East End saloon. They were ordered away, but persisted and finally one of them fell through a window. Officer Moore was called and notified the young men to appear at the mayor's office yesterday. They have not yet made their appearance, and it is probable someone will take a ride in the patrol wagon.

A BIG TOW.

The Pacific Took Down a Vast Amount of Coal.

There is only a small amount of coal in the pools above Pittsburg, and few towns have passed the city in the past few weeks, but the Pacific went down at noon with a tow large enough for several boats. When the boat was passing under the bridge, the front of the tow was opposite the passenger station. It contained 22 barges and three flats.

WANTED A WAGON

To Aid Officer Burgess In Distributing Measles Signs.

Sanitary Policeman Burgess called at the fire station today to solicit the help of Driver McMillan and his patrol wagon in his work, that of distributing measles signs to houses where the disease is found. Quite a heated debate ensued, and it was decided to let the mayor arbitrate the case, which will be presented to him tomorrow.

COUNCIL'S BUSINESS.

There Is Not a Great Deal to Be Considered.

The meeting of council this evening will in all probability be short and sweet, as it is the last time the members will hold full sway. The new councilmen will be seated at the next meeting. The curfew ordinance will be up, and a few names are to be added to the vehicle list, while President Purinton is of the opinion the street railway ordinance may be reconsidered.

MADE MONEY.

There Is a Balance In the Water Work's Fund.

The water works trustees at a recent meeting ordered bills paid to the amount of $1,370.84. The business of the year was closed up, and showed the receipts from all sources to have been $26,950.98, while the expenditures were $26,791.01 leaving a balance in the treasury of $159.97. The report pleases the trustees.

Two Weddings.

Rev. O. S. Reed last night united in marriage Mr. Ben Wyand and Miss Ida Ashbaugh, and Mr. Thomas Lamp and Miss Maggie Beinhimer. The ceremonies were solemnized at Reverend Reed's residence.

HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Whipped Samuel Hay In the Diamond.

HE MADE NO RESISTENCE

But Protected His Face With His Hands. A Disgraceful Scene Ended a Long String of Family Troubles—Hay Has Some Reasons.

A little less than a year ago Samuel Hay was married to Miss Sadie A. Boyd, but the couple did not live happily together, and for some unknown reason they separated.

Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock Hay was passing along the Diamond when he came face to face with Mrs. Boyd, the mother of his wife. She caught him by the coat and administered a severe slap on his cheek. The young man made no effort to strike back, but put up his hands to shield his face, while the irate mother-in-law rained blows fast and furious upon his head. He finally managed to get away from her clutches, and started to run, but she was too fast for him, and overtaking him began once more to give him a severe trouncing.

It is hard to tell when the scene would have stopped had not Officer Earl arrived and ordered the woman to desist.

She made no explanation whatever of her conduct while Hay addressed the officer and said: "That's my mother-in-law. She wants me to live with her, would you? Do you blame a fellow for not living with such a mother-in-law as that?"

Quiet was soon restored, but it will probably be a long time before the Diamond merchants are treated to another such disgraceful scene. It is said the events leading to the assault would make spicy reading.

Another chapter of the story was passed through this morning when Hay was bound over to court by Squire Manley, in the sum of $300 for not supporting his child. Evidence produced showed he had deserted his wife two weeks before the child was born, leaving her at 9:30 one morning to be gone about two hours. A letter written from Wellsville by him told her goodbye, and for her to sell the things and keep the money as she might need it. Squire Manley in commenting on the case said it was a pity the whipping post had been abolished.

IN POLICE COURT.

A Few Offenders Paid For Their Wickedness.

His honor, the mayor, was in the best of spirits this morning, presumably because there was only one case in the jail for his disposal. Messrs. Greenwood and Darrah, who were arrested last Monday for disorderly conduct, were released from their penal duties last evening by each securing their fines, $7.60.

Johnathan Boyle was liberated last night. He called to the mayor that he had $7.60 sewed up, and he thought his freedom was worth that amount. His honor thanked him for his donation, and bade him adieu.

The next case of liberation was that of Alfred Webber, charged with committing assault and battery upon his wife. He told "Chick," as he called the mayor, he didn't know what to do about it, and afterwards said he struck his wife in the face last Saturday.

"Well, that will cost you about $9.60, AL," said the mayor.

Two five dollar bills were seen coming into the office on wings, and Mr. Webber went out feeling happy with forty cents change. Old Mrs. McCoy came into the office at this time, and counseled Mr. Webber to repeat his act, but being a cool headed gentleman he will hardly heed the good (?) advice.

John Fitzgerald came to grief last evening by going to Hall's lumber yard to sleep it off. "I tell you how it was. I haven't had a drink since last August until yesterday, when I took two glasses. It made me a mite sick and I wanted to get in the pink of condition before going home."

"Well, last night's bed will be at the rate of $6.60 per," smilingly said the mayor. Having but $3.15 of the bill, he is still meditating where the other $3.45 is coming from. Thus endeth their tales of woe.

More Measles.

Five new cases of measles were reported to the board of health today. Also one case of membranous croup. The latter case afflicts a family who live in one of the shanty boats at the foot of Union street.

A Son.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pierce, West End, a son.

The insurance companies will likely have a hot time before their differences are settled.

If Queen Lil happens to own a seal-skin sack, she probably wears it every time she passes the White House.

The claim that Dingley's measure fosters trusts has its strongest supporters in England, a very good thing for Dingley's measure.

A prize fighter was shot while attempting to assault a blacksmith at Marion, and now the town thinks of giving the blacksmith a medal.

SOME of the old guard about town, who are always doing something to put themselves behind the bars, have declared their enthusiastic support of the new jail.

If the McLean emissaries visit this county at all they will likely take the shortest cut to Lisbon. There is where the only simon pure leader of Columbiana's somewhat disconnected Democracy holds forth.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY is not making veranda speeches, but he is saying some things from that neatly arranged desk in the executive mansion which are convincing members of congress that he is as much in earnest now as he was last summer.

The yellow kid newspapers are receiving their honest due. By their bid for notoriety they have brought down upon their luckless heads not only the wrath of the pulpit, but the honest condemnation of every honest newspaper man in the country. Their doings form the dirtiest chapter in the history of American journalism.

A CURFEW ORDINANCE.

Council should not make the mistake of permitting the curfew ordinance to die. The measure is sadly needed in this place. Scenes are enacted in the streets every night which would not be possible if a law of this sort was in operation. An efficient police force could keep boys and girls of tender years at home, and there would be at least a curtailment of the immorality at times so pronounced. Similar measures have been productive of great good in other towns. Why cannot East Liverpool profit by their experience?

THAT REVENUE.

The enemies of the Dingley bill, and be it said to their shame they are not confined to Democrats and Populists, pretend to find defects in the measure which will not allow it to produce the desired revenue. That is all both. There is no more danger of the bill proving a failure in this line than there is of its opponents ever being blessed with good sense. As yet the virtue of the bill can only be obtained by comparison with others, and some of the best men in this country are convinced that such a comparison shows the measure to be all that could be asked.

OPPOSING DUTY ON BOOKS.

President Thwing's Argument Against a Dingley Bill Clause.

CLEVELAND, March 23.—President Thwing of Western Reserve university has written to the presidents of all the colleges in the state requesting them to protest against the section in the Dingley bill which imposes a duty of 25 per cent upon books for colleges and public libraries. Dr. Thwing also telegraphed the congressmen from this city, asking them to oppose that section of the bill. William H. Brett, president of the American Library association, regards the imposition by the Dingley bill of a duty of 25 per cent on books imported for the use of libraries as a step backward. "It will," he says, "impose a heavy burden upon libraries and other educational institutions, will not afford any protection to the American publishers, as the books imported by libraries are almost entirely such as cannot be produced in this country, and the revenue derived from it, although a serious deduction from the funds of libraries, is still inconsiderable in the gross amount derived from the bill. In the case of public libraries it is in effect taxing the municipality which is endeavoring to educate its citizens and exempting that which is not."

THE TREATY ADVANCES.

Arbitration Amendments Adopted by the Senate in Executive Session.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Anglo-American arbitration treaty has been advanced considerably toward final ratification by the senate, and before the long executive session closed all the amendments recommended by the committee on foreign relations were agreed to without divisions. These amendments are:

- (1) To provide that all agreements for arbitration entered into by the executive branch of this government with the British government shall be subject to the ratification of the senate.
- (2) Striking out the provision constituting members of the United States supreme court permanent members of the proposed tribunal of arbitration; and
- (3) Eliminating the provisions for an umpire, and therefore striking out of the treaty agreeing upon King Oscar of Sweden and Norway for this office.

A POPULIST DEMAND.

They Want Recognition as a Distinct Factor in the House.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Populist members of the house have held a caucus to discuss the policy of the party in this congress, and as a result have sent to Speaker Reed a letter requesting that they be recognized in debate and through committee appointments as a distinct factor of the minority.

The letter to Mr. Reed states that the Populist party is well established in every state in the union, based upon clearly enunciated principles, different in many essentials from any other political organization; that at the last election they cast about 2,000,000 votes or more than one-seventh of that of the United States; that they elected governors in the states of Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana and Washington; have 8 senators and between 21 and 27 house members.

BRYAN'S GIFT TO SILVER.

He Donates $8,000 to Be Used to Promote the Cause.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 23.—Hon. W. J. Bryan will give one-half the royalties received from the sale of his book, "The First Battle," to the cause of bimetallism. In answer to a communication from his publishers, W. B. Conkey Co., Chicago, stating that $16,000 was due him as royalty on the first month's sales, Mr. Bryan at once instructed them to forward $4,500 to Mr. Jones, $1,500 to Mr. Warner, $1,500 to Mr. Allen and $8,500 to Mr. Teller, and certified checks for those amounts were sent to use for the cause.

A Chinese Superstition.

The strange unwillingness of the Chinese to afford help to a drowning man, or any one in absolute peril of his life otherwise, is based upon a belief that the ghost of the last man killed always acts as "watchman" of the hades or purgatory into which, according to Chinese belief, the spirit of the departed first enters, and from which he can only be relieved by the arrival of a fresh ghost. If, therefore, a man's life be saved from accidental death, the spirit of the person who died immediately before him is, in a manner, cheated out of his relief, and will assuredly haunt the person whose misplaced humanity has condemned it to a fresh term of dismal servitude. This belief also obtains among the highlanders of Scotland.—Exchange.

TONSILINE CURES SORE THROAT.

Read what a well-known Minister writes about Tonsiline:

East Palestine, O., April 8, 1895.

The Tonsiline Co.: I take pleasure in saying that we have used Tonsiline in the family for ulcerated sore throat, and it not only seemed to prevent the attack from being so severe as formerly, but cured the throat completely in a very few days. When any one of us has sore throat of any kind, the rush is for the Tonsiline bottle, and that is the last of it. It is certainly a most excellent remedy.

TARIFF TAX DRAGGED.

Lack of Sharp Crossfiring and Brilliant Oratory.

THE MEASURE READ IN FULL.

Republicans Insisted on This to Prevent Trouble Further On—Dingley's Opening Speech Followed by Wheeler For the Democrats—Others Also Spoke.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The first day of the tariff debate in the house was rather tame from both a spectacular and an oratorical standpoint. There was an absence both of that sharp crossfiring which keeps the nerves on edge and that brilliant eloquence which inspires and holds the imagination. The opening of the debate was delayed over two hours by the full reading of the bill of 162 pages and this, to begin with, had a somewhat depressing influence.

The Republican leaders insisted on this, to avoid the possible charge in the future, should the consideration of the bill not be completed under the five minute rule, that the bill was never read in full in the house, a thing which happened in the cases of both the McKinley and Wilson bills. Mr. Dingley, the chairman of the ways and means committee, made an hour's speech for the majority and Mr. Wheeler of Alabama fired the broadside for the opposition.

Mr. Bailey, leader of the opposition, had decided to close the debate and Mr. McMillin of Tennessee had been selected to reply to Mr. Dingley, but at the last moment it was learned that Mr. McMillin had been unable to prepare himself owing to the illness of his wife. The task, therefore, devolved upon Mr. Wheeler. Mr. Bell of Colorado blazed the path for the Populists. Mr. Hopkins of Illinois also talked for the Republicans.

Mr. Dingley began by stating that congress having been convened in extra session, the facts that had led to the issuance of the president's message were that the government revenues during the past four years had been insufficient to meet the expenditures to the extent of more than $200,000,000, or an average of $50,000,000 per annum; that this deficiency will continue to grow under existing conditions; that the deficiency has been met by borrowing—that is, bond sales, and that this has promoted distrust, intensified and prolonged the run on the treasury and weakened business confidence. This deficiency of revenue, said Mr. Dingley, has nearly all arisen from a falling off of revenues from the duties on imports—and not from a decline of revenue from internal taxes. In revising the tariff, he said, the committee has endeavored to discard mere theories, and addressed themselves to the framing of a practical remedy, at least in part, for the ills which have for so many months overshadowed the country.

Mr. Dingley gave some statistics relative to the importations and tariff on woollens, and said that by placing wool on the free list the treasury lost $31,000,000 revenue and the farmers $30,000,000 per year, and that this country had not been able to increase its exports of manufactures of wool. It had been claimed, he went on, that the price of clothing had been reduced, but this was only in appearance, because people had been deprived of work and wages, and found it harder to buy clothing than before. The new schedule would aid the wool grower, increase manufactures and ultimately increase the revenue.

Speaking of the sugar schedule, Mr. Dingley said it would increase the revenue and encourage sugar production in this country. Continuing, Mr. Dingley said that the increase of the duties in the pending bill to the figures of the tariff of 1890 have been in the schedules of paragraphs covering luxuries like tobacco, liquors, silks and laces, which being articles of voluntary consumption, are always regarded as objects which will bear the highest duties. The exceptions are the earthenware and glass schedule and the agricultural schedule, on which the duties have been placed the same as in the act of 1890, because no other rates seemed to be protective.

Mr. Dingley then briefly touched upon the schedules which had not been materially changed from the present law. These included iron and steel and cotton. "In all other schedules," continued Mr. Dingley, "the rates proposed in the pending bill are between the rates of the tariff of 1890 and the present law."

"There have been transferred from the free list of the tariff of 1894 to the dutiable list of the proposed bill, not only wood, lumber, salt, burlaps, bags, cotton bagging and cotton ties, which never should have been made non-dutiable, but also argols, crude opium, asphaltum, chicle, paintings and statuary, except when imported for free exhibition by an established institution; straw, cut and bound, which are existing conditions, ought to contribute something toward the much needed additional revenue."

"So far as possible the aim has been to avoid exclusively ad valorem duties on articles which have been notoriously undervalued and thus failed to pay the duties intended—a loss of revenue which has been more serious than ever under the present tariff, in which out of the metal and cotton schedule almost exclusively ad valorem rates prevail. The better class of importers have united with the manufacturers and administrators of the law in asking this."

Mr. Dingley discussed at some length the ad valorem and specific systems, and presented figures showing how disadvantageously the ad valorem system worked. He then presented the estimates of the probable revenue that would be raised by the bill, which were given in his report, with the supplemental statement that the second year the bill would yield $100,000,000 increased revenue. In closing Mr. Dingley said:

"It must be obvious from any point of view that prompt action by the two houses of congress is indispensable to securing the revenue which the pending bill is intended to yield. The exigency is an unusual one. The people, without regard to party affiliations, are asking for action. Business awaits our final decision. With this great question of adequate revenue to carry on the government settled favorably by such an adjustment of duties as will restore to our own people what has been rendered to others during the past four years, and with restored confidence in the future, there is reason to believe that gradually and surely there will come back to us the great prosperity which we enjoyed in the decade prior to 1893, and which the greatest of living English statisticians so strikingly eulogized when he said, in 1892, that it would be impossible to find in history any parallel to the progress of the United States in the (then) last ten years."

RESTORE PROSPERITY.

Hopkins Declared the Tariff Bill Was Prepared For That Purpose, Also to Give Employment to Labor—He and Wheeler Had a Tilt.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Mr. Hopkins (Rep., Ill.) announced that the mission of the Republican party, again placed in power, was to restore prosperity and give employment to labor. The tariff bill prepared for that purpose, he said, would meet alike the wants of the government and the people. He said that until he had listened to Mr. Wheeler's remarks he did not believe any Democrat still clung to the old, decayed and repudiated doctrine of free trade. But he was now convinced that a genuine bourbon Democrat seldom forgot any error he had learned and never learned anything new. He paralleled the prosperity the country enjoyed under the McKinley law with the distress produced by the Wilson law. Under the McKinley law 11 stars, he said, were added to the flag.

"What party provided the territory out of which those 11 stars were carved?" asked Mr. Wheeler (Dem.), [Applause.] "The Democratic party," replied Mr. Hopkins. "The same party which tried to take 11 stars from the flag." [Applause.]

Later, while Mr. Hopkins was contending that there was not an enforced idle man in the country under the McKinley law, Mr. Wheeler asked him whether Coxy's army invaded Washington under the McKinley or Wilson law.

"After the advent of the Democrats to power," responded Mr. Hopkins. "After the McKinley law had been paralyzed by the threat of free trade."

"But if there was such wonderful prosperity and all labor was at work, how were the Republicans so numerically defeated in 1893?" queried Mr. McGuire (Dem., Cal.). "By the false pretenses of the Democratic party," retorted the Illinois member, and the applause of his side.

Not a single industry, he declared, had prospered under the present tariff law, unless the "soup houses" established during the panic of 1893 could be called an industry. He gave figures to show how railroad manufacturing and farming interests had suffered. The value of live stock, for instance, he asserted, had decreased throughout the late Democratic administration at the rate of $500,000 a day. The chief glory of the bill, he predicted, would prove to be its reciprocity features. The reciprocity scheme of the act of 1890 had been broadened so as to meet commercial conditions in Germany, France, Belgium and other European countries.

Mr. Kerr (Rep., O.), after pointing out that in consideration of the free entry of sugar, Cuba, under the reciprocity provision of the McKinley law, reduced the tariff on our flour from $4.16 to 88 cents per barrel, and asked if any such concession could be hoped for from a reduction of 8 per cent in the sugar duty.

Mr. Hopkins replied that that was the judgment of those most familiar with the commercial conditions, but if not the United States could trade with Spain on the basis of argols and wines. In conclusion, Mr. Hopkins prophesied that an era of prosperity would begin 60 days after the enactment of the bill.

SPOKE FOR POPULISTS.

Bell Said His Party Did Not Believe the Tariff Caused Our Difficulties—Declared the Election Had Failed to Restore Prosperity.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Mr. Bell (Pop., Colo.) took the floor as the spokesman of his party associates in the tariff debate. "The Populist party," said he, "has not taken any decisive stand on the tariff as a whole because it has never believed that the tariff was the cause of our difficulties. Nevertheless I think it can be safely stated that while the government raises its principal revenue by an import tax such incidental protection should be given to all our industries as will cover the difference between the cost of labor here and abroad without discrimination against section or individual whether it be producers raw material or manufactured products. But the Populist party, of course, believe in requiring the wealth of the country to bear its share of the burdens through a graduated income tax."

Mr. Bell dwelt to some extent on the failure of the election to restore prosperity and give work to the idle. He pointed out that a result of the collapse of increasing prices, thousands of men were given employment, and from this argued that if all the trusts could be destroyed, and if free competition could be again placed in full operation, there would be a better chance for the unemployed than under an increase of taxation designed to foster and develop trusts.

Mr. Bell said the difference in principles between the Wilson bill and this bill was the difference between twaddle and twaddle dum. In the main the changes in the bill were opposed to the interests of the masses. The claim that these duties were levied to cover the differences in the cost of labor, he said, was mere hypocrisy. Statisticians proved that six per cent ad valorem would cover the difference and 18 per cent cover the entire cost of the articles on the dutiable list in 1890. The purse will be about $10,000.

Australian Ballplayers Coming.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—An Australian baseball team is expected to arrive here in a few days. It will make a tour of the United States and is said to be a strong team.

A SCHOOL DESTROYED.

Arlington, Ga., Homes Blighted by a Cyclone.

EIGHT CHILDREN WERE KILLED.

About a Dozen Others Are Expected to Die—Men and Women Stood About in Heartrending Sorrow Wringing Their Hands—Residences Demolished.

ARLINGTON, Ga., March 23.—Every heart in Calhoun county is wrung with anguish.

An awful cyclone has swept down upon this little place and accomplished a work of horror that has only been paralleled in the famous Johnstown disaster.

The bodies of eight children have been taken from the ruins of the Arlington academy and about a dozen others will die.

Thirty-five children and two teachers went down in the wreck of the building, and the work of removing the dead and injured is not yet completed. The scene is heartrending.

The Arlington academy, a fine structure, lay directly in the path of the storm. It was knocked into a great heap, and the work of death was done even before the danger was realized. The structure was smashed into kindling wood, and the broken timber and dead bodies mixed together in sickening confusion.

The death list, so far as known, is: Alice Putnam, Claude Roberts, Ollie Paramore, Willie McMurrie, Genie Butler, Mand Johnson, Mary Wellons, Kenneth Boynton.

The two teachers, Profs. Covington and Walker, have been removed from the ruins and they are terribly hurt. Walker, it is thought, will die.

The list of injured cannot yet be definitely made up. People have not recovered from the awful horror of the disaster. Nearly every home in the community has been blighted by the storm's cruel work. Men and women stand about wringing their hands and weeping for their children so ruthlessly and horribly snatched from them.

It was a blow straight at the heart of the community, and sorrow has come like a pall over all.

The storm also wrecked the residence of W. D. Cowdy and the new residence of Dr. W. E. Saunders, just completed. No one was hurt at these places. There is no news of a definite nature from the outlying districts in the path of the storm, but the damage no doubt is very great.

The academy had been built only two years since, and was a handsome two-story structure.

The storm missed the business part of the town only about 500 yards.

POINTED TALK TO WOLCOTT.

The President Declares He Will Take His Time Making Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—By comparison with the crowds of last week the number of people at the White House is not so large. It is noticeable, however, that among the president's callers are persons who, having called soon after the 4th of March to file applications for places for constituents are now, after waiting what they regard as a reasonable period of time, coming back to urge action.

Senator Wolcott was one of such, and it appeared that he learned with more positiveness than heretofore from the president that he is not to be hurried in filling places, and that the only cases in which urgency is desirable or permissible are those arising from actual vacancies.

TO KNOCK OUT PUGILISM.

Miss Willard Inaugurates a Great Crusade for the W. C. T. U.

CHICAGO, March 23.—A knockout for pugilism in America is the purpose of a giant blow aimed at it here. No less a man than the president of the United States is to administer the knockout, unless mishap comes to far-reaching plans which have been brought to a focus. President McKinley is to have the aid of congress, and of the governor and legislature of every state in the union. That at least is the intention of the national officers and members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Miss Willard has asked the president to recommend a bill preventing prize-fights and their reproduction by photographic machines in the District of Columbia and the territories.

The governors of the different states have been asked to do the same.

Sharkey and Maher Matched.

NEW YORK, March 23.—A match has been arranged between Maher and Sharkey. It will probably be brought off in May by the Greater New York Athletic club in Brooklyn. The purse will be about $10,000.

Drowned Forging a Stream.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., March 23.—Bernard Koch, a farmer living in Lewis valley, his wife and the latter's little brother Jim, son of George Hornman, have been drowned forging a stream.

RIOTING IN BOMBAY.

Natives Object to the Plague Regulations of the Government.

BOMBAY, March 23.—There is a strong opposition to the government measures for the segregation of plague victims in the native towns. A large crowd attacked and smashed a municipal van conveying patients to the hospital. The police suppressed the disorder, but there was a renewal of the disturbances.

One native made an attempt to kill the auditor of the South India railway by striking him on the neck with an ax. The native afterward committed suicide.

The President Received the Cardinal.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Postmaster General Gary has brought Cardinal Gibbons to the White House and introduced him to the president. The latter was in conference with Attorney General McKenna at the time, and suspended business long enough to greet his visitor.

Nothing New In Greece.

ATHENS, March 23.—The Cretan situation is unchanged. The blockade continues, so do war preparations.

are settled.

If Queen Lil happens to own a sealskin sack, she probably wears it every time she passes the White House.

The claim that Dingley's measure
fosters trusts has its strongest supporters
in England, a very good thing for Dingley's measure.

A PRIZE fighter was shot while attempting to assault a blacksmith at Marion, and now the town thinks of giving the blacksmith a medal.

SOME of the old guard about town, who are always doing something to put themselves behind the bars, have declared their enthusiastic support of the new jail.

If the McLean emissaries visit this county at all they will likely take the shortest cut to Lisbon. There is where the only simon pure leader of Columbiana's somewhat disconnected Democracy holds forth.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY is not making veranda speeches, but he is saying
some things from that neatly arranged desk in the executive mansion which are convincing members of congress that he is as much in earnest now as he was last summer.

The yellow kid newspapers are receiving their honest due. By their bid for notoriety they have brought down upon their luckless heads not only the wrath
of the pulpit, but the honest condemnation of every honest newspaper man in the country. Their doings form the dirtiest chapter in the history of American journalism.

A CURFEW ORDINANCE.

Council should not make the mistake of permitting the curfew ordinance to die. The measure is sadly needed in this place. Scenes are enacted in the streets every night which would not be possible if a law of this sort was in operation. An efficient police force could keep boys and girls of tender years at home, and there would be at least a curtailment of the immorality at times so pronounced. Similar measures have been productive of great good in other towns. Why cannot East Liverpool profit by their experience?

THAT REVENUE.

The enemies of the Dingley bill, and be it said to their shame they are not confined to Democrats and Populists,
pretend to find defects in the measure which will not allow it to produce the desired revenue. That is all bosh. There is no more danger of the bill proving a failure in this line than there is of its opponents ever being blessed with good sense. As yet the virtue of the bill can only be obtained by comparison with others, and some of the best men in this country are convinced that such a comparison shows the measure to be all that could be asked.

OPPOSING DUTY ON BOOKS.

President Thwing's Argument Against a Dingley Bill Clause.

CLEVELAND, March 23.—President
Thwing of Western Reserve university has written to the presidents of all the colleges in the state requesting them to protest against the section in the Dingley bill which imposes a duty of 25 per cent upon books for colleges and public libraries. Dr. Thwing also telegraphed the congressmen from this city, asking them to oppose that section of the bill.
William H. Brett, president of the American Library association, regards
the imposition by the Dingley bill of a duty of 25 per cent on books imported for the use of libraries as a stop backward. "It will," he says, "impose a heavy burden upon libraries and other educational institutions, will not afford
any protection to the American publishers, as the books imported by libraries are almost entirely such as cannot be produced in this country, and the revenue derived from it, although a serious deduction from the funds of libraries, is still inconsiderable in the gross amount derived from the bill. In the case of public libraries it is in effect
taxing the municipality which is endeavoring to educate its citizens and exempting that which is not."

THE TREATY ADVANCES.

Arbitration Amendments Adopted by the Senate in Executive Session.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Anglo-American arbitration treaty has been advanced considerably toward final ratification by the senate, and before the long executive session closed all the amendments recommended by the committee on foreign relations were agreed to without divisions. These amendments are:
(1) To provide that all agreements
for arbitration entered into by the executive branch of this government with the British government shall be subject to the ratification of the senate.
(2) Striking out the provision constituting members of the United States supreme court permanent members of the proposed tribunal of arbitration;
and
(3) Eliminating the provisions for an umpire, and therefore striking out the provision agreeing upon King Oscar of Sweden and Norway for this office.

A POPULIST DEMAND.

They Want Recognition as a Distinct Factor in the House.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Populist members of the house have held a caucus to discuss the policy of the party
in this congress, and as a result have sent to Speaker Reed a letter requesting that they be recognized in debate and through committee appointments as a distinct factor of the minority.
The letter to Mr. Reed states that the Populist party is well established in every state in the union, based upon clearly enunciated principles, different in many essentials from any other political organization; that at the last election they cast about 2,000,000 votes
or more than one-seventh of that of the United States; that they elected governors in the states of Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana and Washington; have 8 senators and between 21 and 27 house members.

BRYAN'S GIFT TO SILVER.

He Donates $8,000 to Be Used to Promote the Cause.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 23.—Hon. W.
J. Bryan will give one-half the royalties received from the sale of his book,
"The First Battle," to the cause of bimetallism.
In answer to a communication from his publishers, W. B. Conkey Co., Chicago, stating that $16,000 was due him
as royalty on the first month's sales, Mr. Bryan at once instructed them to forward $4,500 to Mr. Jones, $1,500 to Mr. Warner, $1,500 to Mr. Allen and $500 to Mr. Teller, and certified checks for these amounts were sent to use for the cause.

A Chinese Superstition.

The strange unwillingness of the Chinese to afford help to a drowning man,
or any one in absolute peril of his life
otherwise, is based upon a belief that the ghost of the last man killed always acts as "watchman" of the hades or purgatory into which, according to Chinese belief, the spirit of the departed
first enters, and from which he can only be relieved by the arrival of a fresh ghost. If, therefore, a man's life be saved from accidental death, the spirit of the person who died immediately before him is, in a manner, cheated out of his relief, and will assuredly haunt the person whose misplaced humanity has condemned it to a fresh term of dismal servitude. This belief also obtains among the highlanders of Scotland.—

TONSILINE CURES SORE THROAT.

Read what a well-known Minister writes about Tonsiline:

East Palestine, O., April 8, 1895.
The Tonsiline Co.:
I take pleasure in saying that we have used Tonsiline in the family for ulcerated
sore throat, and it not only seemed to prevent the attack from being so severe as formerly, but cured the throat completely in a very few days. When any one of us has sore throat of any kind, the rush is for the Tonsiline bottle, and that is the last of it.
It is certainly a most excellent remedy.
Yours very truly,
D. F. DICKSON.

TARIFF TALK DRAGGED

Lack of Sharp Crossfiring and Brilliant Oratory.

THE MEASURE READ IN FULL.

Republicans Insisted on This to Prevent Trouble Further On—Dingley's Opening Speech Followed by Wheeler For the Democrats—Others Also Spoke.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The first day of the tariff debate in the house was rather tame from both spectacular and oratorical standpoint. There was an absence both of that sharp cross-firing which keeps the nerves on edge and that brilliant eloquence which inspires and holds the imagination. The opening of the debate was delayed
over two hours by the full reading of the bill of 162 pages and this, to begin with, had a somewhat depressing influence.

The Republican leaders insisted on this, to avoid the possible charge in the future, should the consideration of the bill not be completed under the five minute rule, that the bill was never read in full in the house, a thing which happened in the cases of both the Mc-Kinley and Wilson bills. Mr. Dingley, the chairman of the ways and means committee, made an hour's speech for the majority and Mr. Wheeler of Alabama fired the broadside for the opposition.

Mr. Bailey, leader of the opposition,
had decided to close the debate and Mr.
McMillin of Tennessee had been selected to reply to Mr. Dingley, but at the last moment it was learned that Mr. McMillin had been unable to prepare himself owing to the illness of his wife. The task, therefore, devolved upon Mr.
Wheeler. Mr. Bell of Colorado blazed
the path for the Populists. Mr. Hopkins of Illinois also talked for the Republicans.

Mr. Dingley began by stating that congress having been convened in extra session, the facts that had led to the issuance of the president's message
were that the government revenues
during the past four years had been insufficient to meet the expenditures to the extent of more than $200,000,000,
or an average of $50,000,000 per annum;
that this deficiency was caused by the under existing conditions; that the deficiency has been met by borrowing—
that is, bond sales, and that this has promoted distrust, intensified and prolonged the run on the treasury and weakened business confidence. This deficiency of revenue, said Mr. Dingley, has nearly all arisen from a falling off
of revenues from the duties on imports—and not from a decline of revenue from internal taxes. In revising the tariff, he said, the committee has endeavored to discard mere theories,
and addressed themselves to the framing of a practical remedy, at least in part, for the ills which have for so many months overshadowed the country.

Mr. Dingley gave some statistics relative to the importations and tariff on woolens and said that by placing wool
on the free list the treasury lost $21,
000,000 revenue and the farmers $30,
000,000 per year, and that this country
had not been able to increase its exports of manufactures of wool. It had been claimed, he went on, that the price of clothing had been reduced, but this was only in appearance, because people had been deprived of work and wages, and found it harder to buy clothing than before. The new schedule would aid the wool grower, increase manufactures
and ultimately increase the revenue.

Speaking of the sugar schedule, Mr.
Dingley said it would increase the revenue and encourage sugar production
in this country.
Continuing, Mr. Dingley said that the increase of the duties in the pending bill to the figures of the tariff of 1890 have been in the schedules or paragraphs covering luxuries like tobacco, liquors, silks and laces, which being articles of voluntary consumption, are always regarded as objects which will bear the highest duties. The exceptions are the earthenware and glass schedule and the agricultural schedule, on which the duties have been placed the same as in the act of 1890, because no other rates seemed to be protective.

Mr. Dingley then briefly touched upon the schedules which had not been materially changed from the present law. These included iron and steel and cotton. "In all other schedules," continued Mr. Dingley, "the rates proposed in the pending bill are between the rates of the tariff of 1890 and the present law."

"There have been transferred from the free list of the tariff of 1890 to the dutiable list of the proposed bill, not only wool, lumber, salt, burlaps, bags,
cotton bagging and cotton ties, which never should have been made non-dutiable, but also argols, crude opium, as-phaltum, chickie, paintings and statuary, except when imported for free exhibition by an established institution;
straw ornaments, etc., which, under existing conditions, ought to contribute something toward the much needed additional revenue."

"So far as possible the aim has been to avoid exclusively ad valorem duties
on articles which have been notoriously undervalued and thus failed to pay the duties intended—a loss of revenue
which has been more serious than ever
under the present tariff, in which outside of the metal and cotton schedule
almost exclusively ad valorem rates prevail. The better class of importers have united with the manufacturers and administrators of the law in asking this."

Mr. Dingley discussed at some length the ad valorem and specific systems, and presented figures showing how disad-vantageously the ad valorem system worked. He then presented the estimate of the revenue which the pending
bill is intended to yield. The estimate was in his report, with the supplementary statement that the second year
the bill would yield $100,000,000 increased revenue. In closing Mr. Dingley said:

"It must be obvious from any point of view that prompt action by the two houses of congress is indispensable to secure the revenue which the pending
bill is intended to yield. The exigency is an unusual one. The people, without regard to party affiliations, are asking for action. Business awaits our final decision. With this great question of adequate revenue to carry on the government settled favorably by such an adjustment of duties as will restore to our own people what has been rendered

to others during the past four years,
and with restored confidence in the future, there is reason to believe that gradually and surely there will come back to us the great prosperity which we enjoyed in the decade prior to 1893,
and which the greatest of living English statisticians so strikingly eulogized
when he said, in 1892, that it would be impossible to find in history any parallel to the progress of the United States in the (then) last ten years."

RESTORE PROSPERITY.

Hopkins Declared the Tariff Bill Was Prepared For That Purpose, Also to Give Employment to Labor—He and Wheeler Had a Tilt.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Mr. Hopkins (Rep., Ill.) announced that the mission of the Republican party, again
placed in power, was to restore prosperity and give employment to labor. The tariff bill prepared for that purpose, he said, would meet alike the wants of the government and the people. He said that until he had listened to Mr. Wheeler's remarks he did not believe any Democrat still clung to the old, decayed
and repudiated doctrine of free trade.
But he was now convinced that a genuine bourbon Democrat seldom forgot any error he had learned and never learned anything new. He paralleled the prosperity the country enjoyed under the McKinley law with the distress produced by the Wilson law. Under the McKinley law 11 stars, he said,
were added to the flag.

"What party provided the territory out of which those 11 states were carved?" asked Mr. Wheeler (Dem.), [Applause.] "The Democratic party," replied Mr. Hopkins. "The same party which tried to take 11 stars from the flag." [Applause.]

Later, while Mr. Hopkins was contending that there was not an enforced
idle man in the country under the Mc-Kinley law, Mr. Wheeler asked him whether the army and navy were terribly hurt under the McKinley or Wilson law.

"After the advent of the Democrats
to power," responded Mr. Hopkins.
"After the McKinley law had been paralyzed by the threat of free trade."

"But if there was such wonderful prosperity and all labor was at work,
how were the Republicans so numerically defeated in 1893?" asked Mr. McMillin (Dem., Cal.). "By the false pretenses of the Democratic party," reported the Illinois member, amid the applause of his side.

Not a single industry, he declared,
had prospered under the present tariff
law, unless the "soup houses" established during the panic of 1893 could be called an industry. He gave figures to show how railroad manufacturing
under existing conditions had suffered.
The value of live stock, for instance,
he asserted, had decreased throughout the late Democratic administration at the rate of $500,000 a day. The chief glory of the bill, he predicted, would prove to be its reciprocity features. The reciprocity scheme of the act of 1890 had been broadened so as to meet commercial conditions in Germany, France, Belgium and other European countries.

Mr. Kerr (Rep., O.), after pointing out that in consideration of the free entry of sugar, Cuba, under the reciprocity provision of the McKinley law, reduced the tariff on our flour from $4.16
to 88 cents per barrel, and asked if any such concession could be hoped for from a reduction of 8 per cent in the sugar
duty.

Mr. Hopkins replied that that was the judgment of those most familiar with the commercial conditions, but if not the United States could trade with Spain on the basis of argols and wines.
In conclusion, Mr. Hopkins prophesied that an era of prosperity would begin 60 days after the enactment of the bill.

SPOKE FOR POPULISTS.

Bell Said His Party Did Not Believe
the Tariff Caused Our Difficulties—Declared the Election Had Failed to Restore Prosperity.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Mr. Bell (Pop., Colo.) took the floor as the spokesman of his party associates in the tariff debate. "The Populist party,"
said he, "has not taken any decisive stand on the tariff as a whole because it has never believed that the tariff was the cause of our difficulties. Nevertheless I think it can be safely stated that while the government raises its principal revenue by an import tax such incidental protection should be given to all our industries as will cover the difference between the cost of labor here and abroad without discrimination against section or individual whether it be producer raw material or manufactured products. But the Populist party, of course, believe in requiring the wealth of the country to bear its share of the burdens through a graduated income tax."

Mr. Bell dwelt to some extent on the failure of the election to restore prosperity and give work to the idle. He pointed out that a result of the collapse of the steel rail pool, which reduced instead of increasing prices, thousands of men were given employment, and from this argued that if all the trusts could be destroyed, and if free competition
could be again placed in full operation,
there would be a better chance for the unemployed than under an increase of taxation designed to foster and develop trusts.

Mr. Bell said the difference in principles between the Wilson bill and this bill was the difference between twaddle and twaddle dum. In the main the changes in this bill were opposed to the interests of the masses. The claim that these duties were levied to cover the differences in the cost of labor, he said, was mere hypocrisy. Statisticians proved that six per cent ad valorem would cover the difference and 18 per cent cover the entire cost of the articles on the dutiable list in 1890. The advalorem in this bill would approach 50 per cent.

Australian Ballplayers Coming.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—An Australian baseball team is expected to arrive here in a few days. It will make a tour of the United States and is said to be a strong team.

A SCHOOL DESTROYED.

Arlington, Ga., Homes Blighted
by a Cyclone.

EIGHT CHILDREN WERE KILLED.

About a Dozen Others Are Expected to Die—Men and Women Stood About in Heartrending Sorrow Wringing Their Hands—Residences Demolished.

ARLINGTON, Ga., March 23.—Every heart in Calhoun county is wrung with anguish.

An awful cyclone has swept down
upon this little place and accomplished
a work of horror that has only been paralleled in the famous Johnstown disaster.

The bodies of eight children have been taken from the ruins of the Arlington academy and about a dozen others will die.

Thirty-five children and two teachers
went down in the wreck of the building, and the work of removing the dead and injured is not yet completed. The scene is heartrending.

The Arlington academy, a fine structure, lay directly in the path of the storm. It was knocked into a great heap, and the work of death was done
even before the danger was realized.
The structure was smashed into kindling
wood, and the broken timber and dead bodies mixed together in sickening confusion.

The death list, so far as known, is:
Alice Putnam.
Claude Roberts.
Ollie Paramore.
Willie McMurrie.
Genie Butler.
Maud Johnson.
Mary Wellons.
Kenneth Boynton.

The two teachers, Profs. Covington and Walker, have been removed from the ruins and they are terribly hurt.
Walker, it is thought, will die.

The list of injured cannot yet be definitely made up.

People have not recovered from the awful horror of the disaster. Nearly every home in the community has been blighted by the storm's cruel work.
Men and women stand about wringing
their hands and weeping for their children so ruthlessly and horribly snatched from them.

It was a blow straight at the heart of the community, and sorrow has come like a pall over all.

The storm also wrecked the residence of W. D. Cowdy and the new residence of Dr. W. E. Saunders, just completed.
No one was hurt at these places. There is no news of a definite nature from the outlying districts in the path of the storm, but the damage no doubt is very great.

The academy had been built only two years since, and was a handsome two-story structure.

The storm missed the business part of the town only about 500 yards.

POINTED TALK TO WOLCOTT.

The President Declares He Will Take His Time Making Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—By comparison with the crowds of last week
the number of people at the White House is not so large. It is noticeable, however, that among the president's callers are persons who, having called soon after the 4th of March to file applications for places for constituents
are now, after waiting what they regard as a reasonable period of time,
coming back to urge action.

Senator Wolcott was one of such, and it appeared that he learned with more positiveness than heretofore from the president that he is not to be hurried in filling places, and that the only cases in which urgency is desirable or permissible are those arising from actual vacancies.

TO KNOCK OUT PUGILISM.

Miss Willard Inaugurates a Great Crusade For the W. C. T. U.

CHICAGO, March 23.—A knockout for pugilism in America is the purpose of a giant blow aimed at it here. No less a man than the president of the United States is to administer the knockout, unless mishap comes to far-reaching plans which have been brought to a focus. President McKinley is to have the

MISS FRANCES E. WILLARD.

aid of congress, and of the governor and legislature of every state in the union. That at least is the intention of the national officers and members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Miss Willard has asked the president
to recommend a bill preventing photographs and their reproduction by photographic machines in the District of Columbia and the territories.

The governors of the different states
have been asked to do the same.

Sharkey and Maher Matched.

NEW YORK, March 23.—A match has been arranged between Maher and Sharkey. It will probably be brought off in May by the Greater New York Athletic club in Brooklyn. The purse will be about $10,000.

Drowned Fording a Stream.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., March 23.—Bernard Koch, a farmer living in Lewis valley, his wife and the latter's little brother Jim, son of George Hermann,
have been drowned fording a stream.

RIOTING IN BOMBAY.

Natives Object to the Plague Regulations of the Government.

BOMBAY, March 23.—There is a strong opposition to the government measures
for the segregation of plague victims in the native towns. A large crowd attacked and smashed a municipal van conveying patients to the hospital.
The police suppressed the disorder, but there was a renewal of the disturbances.

One native made an attempt to kill the auditor of the South India railway
by striking him on the neck with an axe. The native afterward committed suicide.

The President Received the Cardinal.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Postmaster
General Gary has brought Cardinal
Gibbons to the White House and introduced him to the president. The latter was in conference with Attorney General McKenna at the time, and suspended business long enough to greet his visitor.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas York—a son.

Miss Gertie Hart is confined to her home by illness.

A. W. King has taken up his residence in Lancaster.

A very pleasant dance was held last evening at Bradshaw's.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Emerline, of Fairview street, a son.

Miss Brookes, of the telegraph office, who has been quite ill, is improving.

The Masons and their lady friends will dance in the lodge rooms this evening.

Ollie Dickey left this morning for East Palestine, where he has secured a position.

P. McBane last evening shipped a car load of cattle to the central stock yards of Pittsburg.

Large shipments of early garden stuff are being received by local grocers almost every day.

Dr. W. J. Taylor returned from St. Louis yesterday. He expects to open an office in the city soon.

J. H. Martin is suffering from a badly mashed finger. He was handling a heavy barrel when the accident occurred.

W. G. Morris, former secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, has shipped his household goods to Coshocton.

Complaints of fast driving are heard every evening, and not without cause. A little boy was almost run down in the Diamond last night.

John Rinehart and H. C. Lakel, of the Lakel House, went to Mill Creek today. Mr. Lakel will purchase a cow of good blood while there.

Charles R. Lakel, who has been visiting his parents at the Lakel House, has returned to Parkersburg to resume his duties on the Ohio River railroad.

A careful estimate of the bicycle dealers in the city places the number at 20, while some have the agency for no less than four different makes of wheels.

The river is now 17 feet and falling. Passed up—James Moren, Enterprise, Down—Ben Hur, Keystone State, Jim Wood. Both packets received a fair cargo at this port.

The small boys continue to break globes for the electric light company, and Trimmer McCoy has decided there is no use trying to catch the youngsters who do the damage.

David Boyd was fishing at Walker yesterday, and caught a prize. It is a sturgeon weighing 18 pounds. Fishermen say it is the largest fish caught in the river this season.

The Lisbon Journal is 30 years old, and shows evidences of a hearty growth. Although it is printed on a hand press almost 100 years old, the Journal is always clean and bright.

John Trimbull was looking for his lost horse last evening. The last seen of the animal was on lower Broadway about 6 o'clock. To a late hour the animal had not been found.

Mr. Leidy, of Johnstown, now a guest of the Grand Hotel, had three fingers of his left hand badly hurt yesterday by accidentally sticking his fingers in the revolving wheel of a bicycle.

"The mail now coming into the city is unusually heavy for this time of the year," said Postmaster Miskall today. "The only cause I can assign is the return of prosperity. I look for a heavier business this year than we have ever had."

A number of complaints are being made in reference to the small boys, who are learning to be drum majors. Fourth street seems to be the gathering place for these boys and their broom sticks, and as a result a number of windows have been broken.

Jessie Fortner, aged 15 years, while making a purchase in a Market street drug store, yesterday afternoon, fainted and was unconscious for half an hour. Restoratives were applied, and when able she was removed to her home in Bradshaw addition by the patrol.

G. B. Smith, the well known baggage-master, lost his dog yesterday. When going out to a train as is his custom he locked the dog in the baggage room and on his return it was gone. How it got out is a mystery as there is no access to the room when the door is locked.

A letter received from Milwaukee states Will Hertel has passed his quarterly examination with high honors, standing at the head of his class. He has also been appointed one of the judges at the National Turnout to be held next May in St. Louis. He will return in June.

A manufacturer of the city last evening, in speaking of the locating of the new electric lights, said he could not understand why the committee did not place a lamp at the corner of Sixth and West Market streets. That corner of the Diamond is one of the darkest places in the city, and it should be illuminated if it is at all possible.

BEAUTIFUL
EMBOSSED } NEWS REVIEW.

The News Review for news.

He Abolished the Page.

For many years the Cincinnati Enquirer used to print a solid editorial page and employed an exclusive editorial staff of six writers, who wrote all their matter at night in order to keep abreast of the telegraphic news. One Fourth of July evening as they assembled to begin work somebody suggested a patriotic drink in honor of the occasion. They filed down to a restaurant near by, and as they lined up at the bar, the door opened and Washington McLean, the presiding genius of the paper, came in. Mr. McLean did not drink often, but when he did he drank very hard. On this occasion he was celebrating the Fourth.

The result was that round after round of whisky was ordered, and nobody thought of the editorial page except one writer (who tells the story in the Chicago Times-Herald), who went back to the editorial rooms and sat down to write an editorial. He never got beyond the first sentence, "Yesterday was the Fourth of July." The next day, when the paper came out, on the editorial page there was just one line of editorial matter. At the top were the words, "Yesterday was the Fourth of July," and the rest of the page was filled with news. The reading public believed that the change was intentional, and Mr. McLean received so many congratulatory letters commending his enterprise in giving news preference over editorial that he abolished the editorial page permanently.

The Vendish Tongue in Germany.

Consul General de Kay writes for The Century a paper on the Serbian swamp Vendland under the title of "An Inland Venice." Mr. de Kay says: These people speak German to the lordsings as we pass Vendish to our boatman, but the Vendish is disappearing because, for the sake of the army, its teaching is discouraged. Throughout all this district, far over into Saxony, only a few churches still offer sermons in the old tongue. Yet if the Vendish tongue disappears the names of places will tell the tale, even as such names in Brandenburg and Saxony still do. Dresden, Leipsic, these are Vendish words—or call them Slavic, with the broader term that now means the race. And hereabout are Cottbus, Vetschau, Muschen, Brahmow, Babow, Dlugy, Raddush, Leipe, Lehdie, Byhleguhre, Straupitz and Lubben. And the fieshes that wind or shoot straight in and out of forest and cleared fields retain Vendish names: Mutniza, Blushniza, Rogazo, Zschapitzk, Polenzo, Groblitzo and Nabasatz. Efforts have been made to give German names to many of them, but country people everywhere are great holders to precedent, and the people who stick so tightly to their old costume are not going to give up their place names without a struggle.

A Witty Bishop.

A good story is told of a war of words between the paradoxical Oscar Wilde and a witty bishop whom he met at a social gathering. Church and stage crossed swords, and it was not the church that bit the dust.

"I am yours, my lord," said Mr. Wilde, bowing low and smiling ironically, "to my shoe buckles."

"I am yours," said the courtly bishop, "to the ground."

The author of "An Ideal Husband" continued:

"I am yours to the center of the earth."

The pillar of the church quickly responded:

"I am yours to the antipodes."

Oscar Wilde began to feel decidedly nettled. Indignant at his defeat by a mere clergyman and a man of piety he exclaimed, as a last thrust:

"I am yours to the lowest pit of destruction!"

"There, Mr. Wilde," responded the divine, "I think I'd better leave you!"—Exchange.

Katie's Reply.

It was one of the days when little Katie seemed to be possessed by a spirit of mischief, and before the afternoon was over she had tired herself and exhausted her mother's patience. At last she did something so naughty that her mother said:

"There, Katie, I shall have to punish you for that."

The child looked at her for a moment in silence, and then, without warning, burst into tempestuous weeping. Just at this crisis her father came into the room.

"Why, little one, what is this?" he asked. "What are you crying for?"

Katie thought for a moment, and then, remembering that the manner of her punishment had not been announced, she answered amid her sobs:

"I don't know, papa. Mamma hasn't told me yet."—London Answers.

Shoes.

Shoes are in every part machine made. It is said by scientific authority that there is no department of human industry in which machinery and the subdivision of labor have been brought to greater perfection than in the manufacture of shoes. In the great shoe factories there are women employed whose business the year round is to sew one seam and one only. Even the metal eyelets are placed in position and clamped by a mechanical device.

Careful.

"My dear," said Mrs. Darley, "could you leave me about $25 this morning?" "My sweetness," replied Darley, "a bank cashier has just died from the effect of handling paper money, and I'm afraid to expose you to the danger. Can you wait until I can procure gold for you?"—Harper's Bazar.

Vaccination as a preventive of small-pox is said to have been practiced in China 1000 B. C. It was introduced into England by Lady Wortley Montagu in 1721.

"The mail now coming into the city is unusually heavy for this time of the year," said Postmaster Miskall today. "The only cause I can assign is the return of prosperity. I look for a heavier business this year than we have ever had."

A number of complaints are being made in reference to the small boys, who are learning to be drum majors. Fourth street seems to be the gathering place for these boys and their broom sticks, and as a result a number of windows have been broken.

Jessie Fortner, aged 15 years, while making a purchase in a Market street drug store, yesterday afternoon, fainted and was unconscious for half an hour. Restoratives were applied, and when able she was removed to her home in Bradshaw addition by the patrol.

G. B. Smith, the well known baggage-master, lost his dog yesterday. When going out to a train as is his custom he locked the dog in the baggage room and on his return it was gone. How it got out is a mystery as there is no access to the room when the door is locked.

A letter received from Milwaukee states Will Hertel has passed his quarterly examination with high honors, standing at the head of his class. He has also been appointed one of the judges at the National Turnfest to be held next May in St. Louis. He will return in June.

A manufacturer of the city last evening, in speaking of the locating of the new electric lights, said he could not understand why the committee did not place a lamp at the corner of Sixth and West Market streets. That corner of the Diamond is one of the darkest places in the city, and it should be illuminated if it is at all possible.

Frank McCord Will Be Collector at Cleveland.

HE HAS ALREADY BEEN CHOSEN

But the Appointment Will Not Be Made Just Now—The President Regards It as One to a Certain Extent Personal to Himself.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—[Special]—It has already been decided who is to be the successor of Louis Ohliger as collector of internal revenue for the Cleveland district. The fortunate man is Frank McCord, of Lisbon, the home of Representative Taylor. A northern Ohio congressman called upon the president a day or two ago to present the claims of one of the applicants for the office. Mr. McKinley informed him that he had already decided that he should appoint Mr. McCord. The president regarded the appointment as one to a certain extent personal to himself. Mr. McCord is a life-long friend of President McKinley, and has always exerted an effective influence in his behalf. He was postmaster of Lisbon during the Harrison administration, and is a forceful and capable man in every respect. He is about 60 years of age. It is understood that, in accordance with the policy of the administration, Collector Ohliger will be permitted to serve out his term, which does not expire until next December.

THIS BIBLE IS VERY OLD

It Was Printed In England by Robert Barlow

ALMOST THREE CENTURIES AGO

Complete In Every Detail—It Also Contains the Ritual of the Church and Helps For the Most Difficult Passages. It Is a Valued Relic.

Probably the oldest book in the city is the property of Thomas Bettridge who resides at 224 St John street. It is a Bible, and was printed in England almost three centuries ago.

The book is substantially bound, and although the pages are yellow with age, the letters show out almost as well as the day the leaves came from the cumbersome press. In addition to the regularly authorized books of the Bible, it contains the ritual of the church of England, and a long explanation of baptism and the communion service. A page is devoted to hints upon the study of the Bible, and an elaborate outline, filled with heads and subheads almost without number, details the principles of the Christian religion. The title page is a work of art. A heart shaped space, surrounded by tents each bearing the name of a tribe of Israel, contains this announcement:

"The Bible that is the holy scriptures contained in the old and new testament. Translated according to the Hebrew and Greek and conferred with the best translations in divers languages. With most profitable annotations upon all hard places and other things of or at important. Imprinted at London by Robert Barlow, printer to the king's most excellent majesty, 1606."

The last part of the volume is devoted to "The whole book of Psalms corrected into English meter by Thomas Stenbold, John Hopkins and others conferred with the Hebrew, with apt notes to sing them with all."

On a blank page is written "Thomas Hallmarke, his book, God gave him grace this on to look. And when the ball for him doth roll. The Lord in heaven receive his soul. 1700."

The book is very well preserved, and has been in Mr. Bettridge's possession for many years, it having been given him by his sister. Mr. Bettridge prizes it highly, and thinks it is the oldest book in town. He came to this city from England in 1871.

THE BICYCLE CIRCUIT.

It Was Well Formed In Pittsburg Last Night.

The Pittsburg papers in speaking of the bicycle racing circuit formed last night have this to say:

There was a goodly meeting of race promoters last night at the formation of the Interstate Professional Bicycle circuit. Trevor F. Myler was elected president and W. L. Dixon secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is composed of J. H. Maxwell, Beaver Falls; A. W. Stevenson, East Liverpool; H. M. Hoffman, Latrobe; Harry Beeson, Uniontown; E. J. House, Erie. It was decided to conduct professional races in conjunction with amateur races. A cash limit of $25 was placed on first prizes. The circuit will include all Western Pennsylvania as far east as Tyrone, all Ohio counties bordering Pennsylvania, West Virginia as far south as Wheeling and Steubenville.

Who wins in the race? Is it a sick man? Is it a man who is weak? Is it a man whose blood is impure? An athlete trains for every race. The best athletes train all the time. They are always in perfect condition. It is pretty safe to say that the best man will always win. The man who is strong and in the best condition will surely distance his competitors.

In the race for success, the best man will win if he takes care of himself. He cannot win if he neglects his physical condition. It doesn't make any difference how smart he is if his body isn't strong, he will never finish the race. He must look first for a clear, healthy, strong body, because the body makes and supports the brain. If the heart pumps impure blood into the brain, you cannot expect the man to be clear-headed, you cannot expect him to accomplish much. If a man's blood is pure and rich, there can not be much the matter with him. If it isn't pure and rich, he may have almost any disease under the sun, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it. It doesn't make any difference what form the disease takes, or by what name it is called. Nearly all diseases spring from impure blood. If you make the blood pure, you remove the cause and cure the disease. That's common sense—and medical sense—and scientific sense.

You might learn a thousand valuable lessons about preserving your health by reading Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a grand book and the present edition is absolutely free to all who send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. It contains 1008 pages and over 300 engravings. 650,000 cloth-bound copies have been sold at $1.50 each. This free edition is in strong manilla paper covers, otherwise it is just the same. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOME TESTIMONY.

Can Any Be Stronger, Carry More Weight or Be More Convincing Than East Liverpool Testimony?

Read every item in your local papers; news notes, advertisements and market reports. Mark this very important fact. Don't forget it when compelled to buy. Tell your neighbors who overlook it. That one—not two—but only one of all the numerous remedies put up for frail humanity, is backed by local testimony. Not Boston proof for East Liverpool people, nor tales from distant, far-off towns, but East Liverpool proof for East Liverpool people. Doan's Kidney Pills in this respect, exist, unique, alone, unimitated. Read this East Liverpool case:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, has been covering his route and delivering news both pleasant and sad, to the people of East Liverpool for the past 24 years. From his robust and healthy appearance you would little think that he was enjoying other than the very best of health. Read what he says. He does not tell you that he was seriously ill, or that his days were numbered, but he does say:

"Sometime ago I contracted a heavy cold which settled in my kidneys and caused me such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not but got worse, I went to the W. & W. Pharmacy and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and took them. The result was that the pains soon left me and I am all right again. They did the work so nicely and thoroughly that I have made up my mind that should I ever have occasion to use anything of the kind again, Doan's Kidney Pills will be the thing and I advise anyone troubled similarly to give them a trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box 6 boxes for $2.50. For sale by all dealers or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

To Consumptives.

As an honest remedy Foley's Honey and Tar does not hold out false hopes in advanced stages, but truthfully claims to give comfort and relief in the very worst cases, and in the early stages to effect a cure.

For sale at Bulger's and Reed's drug stores.

"That Tired Feeling" Overcomes us when inferior preparations are recommended by unscrupulous dealers as "just as good as Foley's Honey and Tar Cough Syrup," when we know the unequalled merits of this great medicine.

For sale at Bulger's and Reed's drug stores.

THE FANS WANT CAREY

Every Effort Being Used to Have Him Signed.

THE RACING CIRCUIT FORMED

A Tri-State Association That Will Permit Professional as Well as Amateur Wheelmen to Test Their Speed—Good Clubs Connected.

George Carey yesterday received a letter from Milwaukee signed by several of the fans saying they were using every effort to have the management sign him. Carey thinks the deal will be made, and says he would be well satisfied to return to Milwaukee. He likes the city and proposes to make his future home there if he is signed by Connie Mack.

The baseball team met last evening at city hall, and elected Henry Schell manager. The bridge company will have charge of the team, but Schell will look after the interests of the players. Percy Albright was elected secretary and treasurer.

There is some talk of having a ball game Saturday afternoon between the local team and the players who have signed contracts for the season with professional teams.

THE BICYCLE CIRCUIT.

It Was Well Formed In Pittsburg Last Night.

The Pittsburg papers in speaking of the bicycle racing circuit formed last night have this to say:

There was a goodly meeting of race promoters last night at the formation of the Interstate Professional Bicycle circuit. Trevor F. Myler was elected president and W. L. Dixon secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is composed of J. H. Maxwell, Beaver Falls; A. W. Stevenson, East Liverpool; H. M. Hoffman, Latrobe; Harry Beeson, Uniontown; E. J. House, Erie. It was decided to conduct professional races in conjunction with amateur races. A cash limit of $25 was placed on first prizes. The circuit will include all Western Pennsylvania as far east as Tyrone, all Ohio counties bordering Pennsylvania, West Virginia as far south as Wheeling and Steubenville.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Mary Reed desires to thank all those friends who so kindly gave their sympathy and aid during the illness of my late husband, Elisha Reed. Also to the Improved Order of Red Men and to Reverend Naylor.

Who wins in the race? Is it a sick man? Is it a man whose blood is impure? An athlete trains for every race. The best athletes train all the time. They are always in perfect condition. It is pretty safe to say that the best man will always win. The man who is strong and in the best condition will surely distance his competitors.

In the race for success, the best man will win if he takes care of himself. He cannot win if he neglects his physical condition. It doesn't make any difference how smart he is if his body isn't strong. He will never finish the race. He must look first for a clear, healthy, strong body, because the body makes and supports the brain. If the heart pumps impure blood into the brain, you cannot expect the man to be clear-headed. You cannot expect him to accomplish much. If a man's blood is pure and rich, there can be no much the matter with him. If it isn't pure and rich, he may have almost any disease under the sun, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it. It doesn't make any difference what form the disease takes, or by what name it is called. Nearly all diseases spring from impure blood. If you make the blood pure, you remove the cause and cure the disease. That's common sense—and medical sense—and scientific sense.

You might learn a thousand valuable lessons about preserving your health by reading Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a grand book and the present edition is absolutely free to all who send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. It contains 1000 pages and over 300 engravings. 650,000 cloth-bound copies have been sold at $1.50 each. This free edition is in strong manilla paper covers, otherwise it is just the same. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOME TESTIMONY.

Can Any Be Stronger, Carry More Weight or Be More Convincing Than East Liverpool Testimony?

Read every item in your local papers; news notes, advertisements and market reports. Mark this very important fact. Don't forget it when compelled to buy. Tell your neighbors who overlook it. That one—not two—but only one of all the numerous remedies put up for frail humanity, is backed by local testimony. Not Boston proof for East Liverpool people, nor tales from distant, far-off towns, but East Liverpool proof for East Liverpool people. Doan's Kidney Pills in this respect, exist unique, alone, unimitated. Read this East Liverpool case:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, has been covering his route and delivering news both pleasant and sad, to the people of East Liverpool for the past 24 years. From his robust and healthy appearance you would little think that he was enjoying other than the very best of health. Read what he says. He does not tell you that he was seriously ill, or that his days were numbered, but he does say:

"Sometime ago I contracted a heavy cold which settled in my kidneys and caused me such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not but got worse, I went to the W. & W. pharmacy and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and took them. The result was that the pains soon left me and I am all right again. They did the work so nicely and thoroughly that I have made up my mind that should I ever have occasion to use anything of the kind again, Doan's Kidney Pills will be the thing and I advise anyone troubled similarly to give them a trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box 6 boxes for $2.50. For sale by all dealers or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
